Filling up ₹ Civil Service vacancies in the Account Dept

G.R.S. III—3]

Routine Notes.

[To be used only for notes, requisitions, etc., not intended for permanent record.]

As personally directed, the files relating to the following arrangements in the Comptroller's Office, are obtained from Financial Secretariat and put up:-

(1) Grant of two month's leave to Mr. K. Guru Dutt from 19-7-33

(2) Arrangements in Account Department, vice Mr.K.Subba Rao, appointed Private Secretary to Dewan.

2) The above are Civil Service vacancies (though of a temporary nature) and have been filled up by appointing non-Civil Service Officers. In case (2) above, attention was drawn by the Confidential Branch to the nature of the vacancies (Civil Service) but the papers did not come again to Chief Secretary before final orders were passed. The file re: Mr. Guru Dutt's leave does not appear to have been referred to the C.S. or Chief Secretary, the officer being a Civil Service Officer.

desirable to increase the number of Gazetted posts open to the Subordinate Account Staff in view of their prospects having been adversely affected by the retrenchment of a number of posts. (The number of the Civil Service posts in the Department also had to be reduced).

It would be convenient if a definite understanding is arrived at in the matter, so as to know whether the Civil Service element in the Account Department is to be proportionately decreased and the cadre reduced as a permanent measure. The Jcn. Secrett. may note on the points urged by the Comptroller, and a final decision then reached

(4) The question may specifically arise for consideration in case Mr. K. Subba Rao (who has served in the Account Department for 6 years) is intended to be withdrawn to the general line permanently. Whether another Assistant Commissioner is to be posted to the Department will be for orders.

1) In this connection reference is respectfully invited to the fact that in connection with recent retrenchments, the posts of Asst Comrs under training in Comptroller's office were abolished, and there is now no ~~officer~~ Civil Service officer under training who could replace the Asst Comrs who have served out their ~~term~~ term.

2) Unless Asst Comrs from ~~the~~ the general line can be directly posted to Asst Comptroller's Charges (without any preliminary training), or unless one or two officers are posted for such training in advance, every withdrawal of a C.S. officer from the Accounts Dept. will involve a decrease in the number of Civil Service charges. Some action seems to be necessary.

Returned with Compliments. I do not know on what point my remarks are wanted. The case in which the present discussion arose is one of a vacancy of two months. I do not think that it would ordinarily be convenient or desirable to post an officer from outside the Acct Department for such short vacancies. Nor need the appt of a Superintendent of the Dept in such a vacancy be taken as a diminution of the Civil Service element which should be avoided. There is however no objection in whatever to a Civil Service officer being kept in training in this office. ~~for taking~~ When such an officer has had some training he could take the place of an officer on the staff taking leave as in this case. The ~~whole~~ question may be dealt with in connection with that of the proportion of the non-Civil Service element in the Department which is stated above to be under consideration in the Financial Secretariat.

Strength of the Subordinate Gazetted Officers in the Comptroller's Office --Assistant Comptrollers.

16 The Comptroller's letter dated 4th April 1932 (P.U.D.) traces the whole question from its genesis to its present state. The letter incidentally refers to certain other points on behalf of the Superintendents of this office, but those points are not strictly germane to the question which is the subject of these papers, and are not brought in here.

To recapitulate, the history of the question is, in brief:-

In September 1924, when the Civil Service was reorganised in G.O. No.757-807/C.B. 210-23-1 dated 22nd September 1924, the number of Assistant Comptrollers was fixed at 9, with 3 allocated to the Civil Service and 6 to the non-Civil Service. This ~~question~~ allocation was then considered to be in the best interests of work in the Comptroller's Office. In February 1925 this arrangement was revised and 4 places were set apart to Civil Service and 5 for the non-Civil Service. The cadre of the former was also increased by one. In 1926 again, the question came in for review, as 5 officers were recruited direct to the Account Office as probationers ultimately to become Assistant Comptrollers. The whole question was re-examined ab initio, and "with a view to ensure suitable prospects to the Superintendents of the Comptroller's Office", out of the twelve places of Assistant Comptrollers, then available, "at least" four were ordered to be reserved for the Superintendents (G.O. No.Fl.6324-83/G.F.23-25-94 dated 6th May 1926). Four places were to go to the Officers recruited direct, and the third part (i.e., 4) was reserved for Civil Service.

File No GF 23-25-55, 59 & 94

18 Reference is requested to the notes and discussions ending with the submission note dated 30th March 1925. It will be seen that careful attention has been given to the matter, and that what may be termed the only possible arrangement, arrived at. Perhaps, this arrangement of assuring a third part of the Gazetted places to the Subordinate Service of the Accounts Department could be styled as the last word in the matter, as it may not admit of any ~~depletion~~ curtailment, if there should be held out any prospects to the service.

19 Out of the 12 places that were then available, two were abolished in the wake of retrenchments and ~~reducing~~ the total number of Assistant Comptrollers stood reduced to 10,—leaving out the one temporary place for Irwin Canal Audit.

20 According to the allocation decided upon in the Government Order of 6th May 1926, the ten places have to be allocated as :- 3 to Civil Service, 3 to non-gazetted Service and 4 to the directly recruited officers. The last number is practically a stationary number and the odd division has therefore to go in its favour.

21 Against the allocation which ought to be, under the orders, in the foregoing manner, it is, as below now:- Vide P.P. 40 and 41 of the latest Civil List. (Leaving out the acting and S.P.T. appointments with which there is no concern now, the composition stands :—

1) If the arrangement of assuring a third portion of the Gazetted posts to the Superintendents of the Comptroller's Office should be allowed to continue unaltered, two officers have to be taken away from Group I above and one added to the III Group. Mr. B. Srinivasa Iyengar, Special Officer has also spoken to the desirability of such a readjustment. (Vide his report extracted.) The Comptroller too has pleaded in a much similar way. Vide his letters (P.U.D.) and Flag B.

2) If the Civil Service element should be maintained at this level, the system of training a Civilian in the Accounts Department has got to be revised, as otherwise, a Civilian raw to the Accounts Department may have to be taken in. As stated in the note of the Confidential Branch in the opening page ante, this arrangement may not be conducive and efficiency of work will be at stake. The Officer posted has to pass certain examinations and set himself to the new groove and hence training is is necessary. The Civil Service number is perhaps not possible to be reduced to 3 as, in the order of February 1925, the cadre itself has been increased by one assuming the number to be allocated to the Accounts Department as 4. But this number of 4 may continue to remain unaffected, if the officer under training is also included in the number as - 3 Assistant Comptrollers permanent plus 1 Assistant ~~Comptroller~~ Commissioner under training.

24 The following proposals are therefore submitted for orders:-

Points for Orders.

1) Mr. K. Subba Rao is now in the general line though on a temporary basis. If it is not inconvenient, this opportunity may be taken to withdraw him from the Accounts Department. So too, Mr. M.A. Srinivasan, who is now on other duty in the Sri Krishnarajendra Mills may also be withdrawn for the time being, and in his place one Assistant Commissioner may be posted for training in the Comptroller's Office. (The Comptroller too has requested that the vacancy caused by Mr. K. Subba Rao's transfer be filled up by promoting a Superintendent (Vide his letter- portion marked A, dated 3rd may 1933). In this way, the proportion of Civil Service in the Accounts Department will stand at 3 plus 1 officer under training, while the cadre increased in 1925 will remain unaffected at the same time and only the officer under training will have to be reckoned as a permanent officer from the date of entry for training for purposes of the strength of the cadre, while so far as the Comptroller's Office is concerned the number of Civil

H Secy) 15/8/33

95 The question raised relates to allocation of officers amongst the Civil Service, the non-Civil Service and the directly recuited officers of the Account Department and involves considerations of policy of future recruitment and is a Council matter.

96 The number originally fixed was at 4 for each kind and as pointed out in the above notes the direct recruits are 4 in number and cannot be disturbed, though the total number of places in the Dept has been reduced by 1. This leaves only 7 (including the temporary appointment of Assistant Comptroller, Krishnarajasagara Works) to be distributed permanently between the Civil Service and non-Civil Service cadres. Out of this 7 the temporary post is now held by a non-Civil Service Officer and this is eventually to be abolished. It has been ordered that the question of abolition of this post should be considered in January 1934. Leaving this out of account as it is practically certain that it will be abolished, there are 6 appointments of which 4 are held by Civilians and ~~the~~ two by qualified Superintendents.

Serial No.

27 The present proposal is to make the distribution even 3 Civil Service and 3 non-Civil Service (promotion from the Subordinate ranks) and to have a Civil Service Officer in addition under training. If it is considered necessary to transfer a Civil Service Officer from the Accounts Department to the general line and to take in another officer for training, the Civil Service Cadre on the whole will remain unaffected.

28 The non-Civil Service Cadre will also stand at 3 when the post of the Assistant Comptroller, K.R.S. is abolished.

29 The above suggestion is the same as that offered by the Special Officer, Mr. B. Srinivasa Iyengar, in his report.

30 On account of retrenchments affecting Audit Department cases of hardship and reversion have arisen in the non-Civil Service Cadre without any near prospect of remedy and my suggestion if adopted will give some relief to the affected persons without in any way trenching upon the Civil Service Cadre.

35) Returned with Compliments.
The question is now the three constituent groups — the Civil service element, the direct recruitment element and the promoted element — in the gazetted ranks may be made as far as possible equally to bear the loss of places due to retrenchment.

36) When there were twelve places of Assistant Comptrollers each group was allotted four places. The reduction by two places has affected the promotion element and the Civil Service element. As the direct recruitment group was fixed this was as equitable as the change could possibly be.

37) The proposal now is to make up the loss to the Civil Service by revising the arrangement of having a civil service officer under training in the department. I agree to the proposal. It is desirable to have as many civil service officers as possible trained in accounts. It may however be made clear in revising the arrangement that the whole period during which an officer is posted for training should be treated as a period of training and the officer placed in charge of any section only thereafter. Temporary vacancies due to leave taken by an officer on the staff would be thereby filled up by promotion in the usual course. This is necessary not only in the interests of work but for the safety of the officer under training.

38) I may say in this connection that there are now three Dy Comptrollers appointments in the Dept. When there were two of these places it was laid down that one should be a Civil Service officer and one a departmental officer promoted. Of the three places now two are filled by promoted officers and one by an officer taken from the Civil Service (I am talking of the permanent incumbents) It is desirable in the interests of the service today that this proportion of places may continue, viz. one Dy Comptr may be an officer taken from the Civil Service and two taken from the direct recruitment group and the promoted group. If the exigencies of the service require that more than one place of Dy Comptr

Allocation of posts in Account Department between Civil Service and Non-Civil Service.

39) The point on which the opinion of the Comptroller was invited, was the allocation of the posts of Assistant Comptrollers between the Civil Service and the Non-Civil Service. The Comptroller is agreeable to the proposal of the Chief Secretary and the Financial Secretary to allocate the permanent strength of Assistant Comptrollers as indicated in the margin, which in effect means the revival of a post of Assistant Commissioner under training and the releasing of one more post of Assistant Comptroller from the Civil Service to the subordinate service.

Civil Service: 3 + 1 (Under training)
Subordinate Serv: 3
Directly recruited: 4
10 + 1 (training)

40) Incidentally, the Comptroller raises one other issue concerning the cadre of Deputy Comptrollers (Rs.600-40-800) According to the Civil Service Order of 1924 when there were only two posts of Deputy Comptrollers these are open to Civilian as well as non-Civilian Assistant Comptrollers and one of these two is to be ordinarily held by a Non-Civilian. At present there are three Deputy Comptrollers of whom only one is from the Civil Service while the other two are from the subordinate service. The Comptroller wants this proportion (of 2 out of 3 for subordinate service) to be continued. To ensure this, the Comptroller suggests that in case any of the non-Civil Service Deputy Comptrollers were to be replaced by a Civilian at any time hereafter, then one more post of Assistant Comptroller should be released from the Civil service to the subordinate service so that the total number of posts available for them may be unaffected. This point is likely to arise in the near future in connection with the retirement of Mr. M. A. Rangachar. If any Assistant Commissioner is appointed Deputy Comptroller in that connection, one of the Civil Service Assistant Comptrollers will have to be withdrawn, according to the Comptroller's proposal, to make room for an officer from the subordinate service.

NOTE—Contn. Sheet.

WD 70—GBPM—60,000—13-8-31

Submitted to His Highness.

The accompanying papers relate to the question of reallocating the posts of Assistant Comptrollers among the several services. These posts are recruited from the following services:-

(i) From the Civil Service;

(ii) By direct recruitment;

(iii) By promotion from the subordinate ranks of the Account Service.

Flag H

In Government Order No. Fl.6324-83/G.F.23-25-94 dated the 6th May 1926, it was ordered that out of the 12 posts of Assistant Comptrollers that were then in existence, 4 might be allocated to the Civil Service and out of the remaining, at least 4 might be reserved for promotion of officers from the subordinate Account Service. Subsequently 3 more posts of Assistant Comptrollers were created and in Government Order No. 813 dated the 30th August 1929 it was ordered that one of these may be allocated to the Civil Service and the other two to the subordinate service so that the proportion stood as under:-

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| (i) | Civil Service .. .. | 5 |
| (ii) | Officers directly recruited | 4 |
| (iii) | Promoted from Subordinate Service .. .. | 6 |
| | | 15. |

Further, in Government Order dated 4th February 1930, sanction was accorded to keep two Assistant Commissioners under training in the Comptroller's Office to facilitate the replacement of Civil Service Officers who had served out their term in the Department, so that altogether there were 7 Assistant Commissioners (5 holding regular charges and 2 under training) allocated to the Account Department.

The retrenchments effected in recent years have, however, curtailed the posts of Assistant Comptrollers considerably so that there are at present only 10 permanent posts, excluding the temporary post of Assistant Comptroller in charge of Krishnarajasagara Works which is proposed to be abolished in the near future. These ten posts are at present distributed as follows:-

|---|---|---|
| Civil Service .. | .. | 4 |
| Directly recruited | .. | 4 |
| Subordinate Service | .. | 2 |
| | | 10 |

Flag Z

The Comptroller has brought to notice that the prospects of the Subordinate Account Service has been very adversely affected by the retrenchments and urged the desirability of increasing the number of posts open to the Subordinate Service. It is not possible to reduce the proportion of officers directly receruited as all the four posts are held by permanent officers who cannot be transferred elsewhere. The number of Civil Service Officers in the Department has already been reduced from 7 to 4 and a further reduction is likely to affect prejudicially the prospects of promotion of Amildars. After a careful consideration of all the circumstances of the case, it is considered desirable that one more post be released from the Civil Service to the Subordinate Service so that the proportion will stand as under:-

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Civil Service Officer | .. | 3 |
| Directly recruited Officers | | 4 |
| Subordinate Account Service | | 3 |

One of the measures of retrenchment recently adopted was the abolition of the posts of Assistant Commissioners under training in the Comptroller's Office. In consequence, considerable difficulty is now being experienced in finding fresh officers to replace Assistant Commissioners who have completed their term of service in the Department. Necessity has been felt to have at least one extra officer (of the Civil Service) under training so that he could, on completion of training, be posted to a regular charge. This proposal has also the advantage of leaving the total Civil Service strength in the Account Department unaffected.

Flag-B (Pages 17-18 of office note)

The above proposals which are agreed to by the Members of Council, may be graciously approved. The Comptroller has also incidentally raised the question of re-allocation of posts of Deputy Comptrollers. This question will be considered separately.

GENL & R... DEPT.

Sir,

I have the honor to state that Government in their order No.757-807 C.B.210-23-1 dated 22nd September 1924 organised a separate Accounts Service in connection with reorganisation of the Civil Service and the cadre of Gazetted Officers in the Accounts Department was fixed at 12 in all, the details being a Comptroller, two Deputy Comptrollers and nine Assistant Comptrollers including one temporary. It was also then laid down that "the reservation of the bulk of the appointments of Assistant Comptrollers to the Civil Service has not worked satisfactorily in practice, the department requires special training extending over a long period and the transfer of the Civil Service Assistant Comptrollers who are now holding the majority of Assistant Comptrollers posts, to the general service seriously affects the work of the department," only three places of Assistant Comptrollers and one place of Deputy be reserved for the Civil Service Officers and the remaining six thrown open to non-civil service officers. In addition to this, the post of the Accounts Assistant to the Chief Electrical Engineer of a slightly lower grade of that of an Assistant Comptroller was available and being filled up by the subordinates. The post of the Deputy Secretary, Insurance Office, an appointment of the same grade of an Assistant Comptroller was likewise filled up by the subordinates of the Accounts Department. In Government Order No.1956-2006/C.B.210-23-21 dated 14th February 1925 however, this was revised and four places were reserved for Civil Service and five for non-civil service and even after this the total number of gazetted place

open

open to them including one Deputy Comptroller's place was eight in all. Subsequently with the extension of decentralisation scheme, three more places of Assistant Comptrollers were created in the Electrical, Education and Military Departments. But as against these three additions, five probationary officers were directly recruited, more or less at the same time, though unfortunately one of them died leaving four for being appointed as Assistant Comptrollers without any reduction in the Civil Service element. Subsequently, taking into consideration the additional three appointments referred to above, Government directed in their order No.Fl.6324-83/G.F.23-25-94 dated 6th May 1926, with a view to "reserve a definite number of appointments of Assistant Comptrollers and to ensure suitable prospects to the Superintendents of the Comptroller's Office" that out of the cadre of eight non Civil Service posts "at least four be reserved for the Superintendents thus guaranteeing them a third of the Gazetted appointments." Even after this order, the total number of places available to the subordinates was (four Assistant Comptrollers, one Deputy Secretary, Insurance Office, one Accounts Assistant to Chief Electrical Engineer and one Deputy Comptroller) seven in all. In addition to these out of three more Gazetted Appointments created, one in the Railway Department for audit of M. & S. M. Railway Accounts, one in the Forest and one in the Agricultural Department, two more were made available to the subordinates. The total number of places thrown open and actually held by the subordinates of the department prior to 1st May 1931 was thus nine.

2. Thereafter almost simultaneously and in quick succession, Government ordered the abolition of (though temporarily) the marginally noted five gazetted posts viz.,

Accts.Asst.to Ch.Elec.Engineer
Fl.Asstt. to Dr. of Agriculture
Accts.Asstt.to Ch.Cons of Forests
Accts.Asstt.to Ch.Commandant.
Special Auditor, M. & S.M.Ry. Accounts.

These orders resulted in the reversion of some of the Gazetted Officers and a number of subordinates of the department from grade to grade, causing great hardship as these officers had to lose very heavily in their emoluments which they had the privilege of drawing for a number of years. Coming closely upon this, the salary cut order has effected them even more adversely.

3. In spite of the abolition of no less than five places, the Civil Service element is at the same figure as prescribed in the Government Order of May 1926 and this would mean that even the minimum number of four places of the regular Assistant Comptrollers guaranteed to the subordinates of the Accounts Department in that order is not now open to them. In consideration of this special hardship, some of the senior Superintendents of my office, have submitted personal representations urging among other things, the following remedial measures to mitigate their hardship in connection with the filling up of the vacancies which will occur in the near future by the retirement of three or four officers.

Messrs. M. A. Rangachar
A. Tholasinga Mudaliar
K. Subramanyam and
M. P. Bhima Rao (Insurance Office)

(1) that when the post of Deputy Comptroller held by Mr. M. A. Rangachar falls vacant it may be filled up by promoting a senior subordinate service Assistant Comptroller or if that is not possible and a Civil Service Assistant Comptroller is appointed to it, the consequential vacancy of Assistant Comptroller be allowed to be filled up by a subordinate,

(2) that when the post of Deputy Secretary, Insurance Office falls vacant it may be filled up by one of the subordinates of this department or in the alternative if a Civilian or outside officer is posted to it, the Civil Service element be further reduced by one in this department, as in the past the vacancy of the Insurance Office has all along been filled up by a Subordinate Officer of this department,

(3) lastly, a recognition of the principle that when a Gazetted place in the department held by an officer of the Subordinate Service falls vacant it should invariably filled up by promoting a member of the Subordinate Service.

4. I consider that it is necessary to assure to the Subordinate Staff

Staff at least four permanent places of Assistant Comptrollers as per Government Orders and that they have been hard hit by the various arrangements made during the last few months and therefore the requests mentioned above are reasonable and I commend them for the very favourable consideration of Government. I request the favour of early orders.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

R Thamarus
Comptroller.
